LORNE SHIELDS “The Bicycle in Vintage Photographs”

Lorne Shields has collected early cycling photography for over 40 years. He has recently presented this topic at PhotoHistory XIV in Rochester New York. Aspects of his collection have been on display at the Smithsonian Institution, Royal Ontario Museum, and Science & Technology Museum of Canada, among others. The development of photography is well represented. Images encompass social history, fashion, mechanical development, sport, circus/theatre, commerce and just plain fun. Photographs range from daguerreotypes (ca. 1849) to gelatin silver prints (ca. 1930). Come and enjoy the ride!
